MUMPING NIGHT 17TH DECEMBER 2011

There is excitement throughout South Gloucestershire and even Bristol at the coming of Mumping Night ~ the traditional Christmas entertainment, which ACT (Arts and Community in Thornbury) is once again bringing to the Chantry, Thornbury, on Saturday 17 December, following a hugely successful, sell-out event last year.

Following a procession through the town, interspersed with carols, after a warm, wassail cup and mince pie (both included in the ticket price), entertainers now confirmed include acclaimed magician Barry Smith, Valerie Quinn with a History of Thornbury Castle, Octopus Drama Group, with songs & sketches, plus the award winning Northavon Youth Theatre Company and classical singing group: Nota Bene and although at the time of writing the programme is still being confirmed, we hope to bring you a high profile band, while we are also in hot pursuit of a group of Morris Men, so we can guarantee there will be plenty of variety! More offers to contribute are coming in, so if you or your group is interested, please contact Kate on 01454 411253 or email kate.pm@hotmail.co.uk.

ACT hopes to offer 16 different acts for your delight, plus food, (including hot chestnuts and hotdogs) and drink aplenty, as the Chantry Bar will be open! Just to add to the mix, there will probably be more than one Lord of Misrule this year, so look out for fun and high jinks throughout the evening. Tickets remain at £8 and £4 for children (available from Thornbury Garden Shop), but please note that the Chantry is unsuitable for wheelchairs or pushchairs. Tickets are limited to 200, so don't miss out and start Christmas with ACT, the Charity aiming to build a theatre based community complex in the centre of Thornbury.
